ALL PARTIES FOUND GUILTY

George B. Hoover Guilty on All Four Charges. Assault and Battery Charge Sustained against Young Defendants.

In Cumberland County Court this morning the jury in the cases covering the fracas between Bendersville and Mount Holly on the night of May 20, found George B. Hoover guilty on all the four charges preferred against him, and the four boys were found guilty on the charge of assault and battery. The costs were divided. Sentence has not yet been pronounced.

The trial of the cases was resumed on Tuesday morning: Edward Hewitt, one of the defendants, aged 20, of Starlers Station, testified: I went to Young's in company with the other defendants. Three men drove past in a buggy and one asked how far it was to Holly. Young replied and then one of the three swore at him. Some words were passed, and then Hoover tried to strike them with the whip. After Hoover and his companions had driven on, another fracas ensued. Hoover pointed a gun at me and I was afraid he would shoot and tried to get away from him. I then picked up a stone and threw it at Hoover. After the fight I went home with the others.

Cross-examined: I rehearsed this story several times with my counsel, but did not talk it over at home. After Hoover was struck with the whip Kinehart said he wanted to go, and that is the reason we drove on the same direction after Hoover.

Attorney Berg asked that the witness look at the jury, and charged that someone was coaching the witnesses from the rear of counsel table. Attorney Faller said of Mr. Berg's statement that "that is an old story."

Cross-examination continued: I don't remember all I said before the justice, you asked so many questions.

Jesse Thomas, sworn: I was a witness for the Commonwealth yesterday. I reside near Starlers Station and work on a farm. On the morning of May 21 I went to Goodyear for a load of wood. Along the road I found a loaded revolver which I picked up and kept until the hearing. The road is a mud road with not many stones about.

Arthur Young, sworn: I accompanied Jesse Thomas to Goodyear as detailed by him, when he found a loaded revolver. The Court refused to permit a question about the character of the road.

Ira McCullough, sworn: I live near Goodyear and know Mr. Hoover. On May 21st I was at Hoover's hotel. I saw Hoover's head tied up and a mark on his face. He told me he swore at the boys and that started the fight.

Cross-examined: I am related to Clime, one of the defendants. Hoover said those who assaulted him were the "two Climes and Mortoff." Hoover was about his hotel attending to business.

Charles Lerew, sworn: I reside at Bendersville and am a mail carrier. On May 20th I was sitting opposite Hoover's hotel and heard the party leaving about 10.30 p. m. It was too dark to see across the street. The party shouted and sang as they drove away, for as far as we could hear.

Cross-examined: I arrived home at 9.20 with the stage and it was some time after this that the party left.

W. L. Yeigert, sworn: I was at Mount Tabor church that night. The Hoover party passed and "battered" as if they were crazy passing along the road.

William Day, sworn: I reside at Goodyear. I heard the Hoover party cursing and swearing. One was "Windy" Hoover as they call him.

John Delp, of South Dickinson; George W. Paxton, of Goodyear; Alfred Delp, of Idaville; Edward Ross, of Holly; Squire Thomas, of Idaville; John Shepherd, Adams County County Commissioner W. F. Gardner, of Carlisle, were called to testify to the good character of the defendants.

Prosecutor called S. B. Gochnaur, Frank Garretson, D. P. Delap, Dr. Stover of Bendersville; and Edward Hartman, Adams County. Dill Brown, Harvey Quigle, D. S. Peters, Constable Elijah Sowers, of Bendersville, to testify to Hoover's good character.

MORE HITCHING POST ARGUMENTS

Merchants Hold Meeting and Send Communication to the Town Council. Would Like to have More Posts. Other Business.

The hitching post agitation came in for still further consideration at the hands of the town council on Tuesday evening when J. L. Williams, Esq., Howard Hartley and O. J. Boston appeared and reported to council that at a recent meeting of the merchants of the town the following was adopted:

"It is the sense of this meeting that the removal of the hitching posts from the public Square would seriously affect our business interests; that we would be content if the borough would provide a permanent hitching place convenient to the Square, but we are strongly opposed to a temporary place; that we are willing to provide and erect suitable hitching posts which will not be unsightly and the number of posts should be increased in the Square; that we think the borough authorities should clean up the ground surrounding the hitching posts as these are for the general business interests of the town, but if council insists we will sweep and clean up the ground in front of our stores, the borough to haul the refuse away after it is placed in piles and that on market mornings the borough clean the whole Square including the hitching post ground."

The above was attached to the following petition signed by nineteen business firms:

"We the undersigned merchants of Gettysburg do most earnestly petition council not to take any action regarding the removing of the hitching posts in and around Centre Square as it will be detrimental to the business interests of the merchants and the town in general. Sixty per cent of our business comes from the patron of the county surrounding our town and, by depriving our patrons the privilege of hitching posts, it will cause the trade to go elsewhere. We consider this a serious matter and beg you to consider it very thoroughly in the interests of our town."

Council deferred action until the next meeting.

President Trostle called the attention of council to the condition of the alley from Breckenridge to High street, between Washington and Baltimore streets. No action was taken.

The highway committee was instructed to have new crossings laid on Baltimore street between the properties of Dr. M. Moriarty and Dr. W. H. O'Neal; between the homes of S. Miley Miller and Mrs. A. S. Parr; and between the home of H. B. Bender and the store of A. S. Mills.

The street curbing ordinance was passed and the Water street ordinance held over to the next meeting.

Burgess Holtzworth was instructed to collect this year's back license under the old ordinance and to continue acting under that ordinance so long as it is in force.

Martin Winter appeared to ask council to do their portion of the work on Broadway in consideration of his furnishing the shale for filling. Council agreed, passing a motion that the borough pay his part of the work in one year from date.

"GIRL FROM RECTORS"

Theatre-goers are anticipating with a remarkable show of interest the forthcoming production in this city of the "Girl From Rectors" which ran over one year at Weber and Fields Music Hall, New York. "The Girl From Rectors" easily the funniest comedy produced in years comes for one night to the Wizard Theatre Wednesday, September 18. Prices will range from 35 to 75 cents with a few at $1.00 all reserved in advance.

COLLEGE OPENS WITH BIG CLASS

Gettysburg College opened its eighty-first academic year this morning with the largest enrollment in its history and with 100 new students. The largest Freshman class before this year was 85.

The formal opening exercises took place in Broad Chapel at eight o'clock. President Garville in his address called attention to the prosperity of the college and in addition to speaking of the large attendance said that the financial condition of the college was never better and that the spirit of alumni and students was at its highest pitch. With these conditions a year of unusual success and prosperity is expected. In the Preparatory Department the same favorable things are reported so that Gettysburg may look forward to a year in its educational institutions better than any which has preceded it.

With the conclusion of the opening exercises the regular college activities were at once taken up. Class meetings were called. Coach Philipp asked all foot ball candidates to report at his office and announced the first practice for half past two in the afternoon. It is said that foot ball prospects have not been so promising for many years as they are this fall. The first game will be played with Middletown on Nixon Field, Saturday afternoon, September 21, and the University of Pennsylvania game will follow on the next Saturday at Philadelphia.

Gettysburg always looks forward with feelings of uneasiness to the Freshman caps and the appearance of the noisy headgear today justified all the fears. The Sophomores have ordered that the cap this year shall be a grass green, surmounted by a red button and with all the seams sewed with orange felt. It is decidedly the worst—or best—combination that they have yet been able to invent. The annual contests between the two classes next Saturday afternoon have nothing to do with the removal of the caps or buttons.

FIRST OF STRING OF COUNTY FAIRS OPENS

From now on to the latter part of October there will be a string of county and other fairs, and these will attract attention of many thousands of persons in this section of the state. The Middletown fair began Tuesday and it will close Friday; the Stewartstown fair begins today and will close Friday; the Hanover fair begins on the 17th and ends on the 20th; the Interstate fair begins at Trenton, N. J., October 1 and ends October 4; the Lancaster fair will be held October 14; the Cumberland county fair at Carlisle, September 24-27; the York fair, October 7-11; the Hagerstown fair, October 15-18, and the Frederick fair, October 22-25.

For the economy and convenience of exhibitors, concessionaires and owners of speed horses and in order to insure more satisfactory arrangements between these patrons of the fair and the management of the several fairs, six fairs of this vicinity have formed an association known as the Pen Mar Circuit. This circuit is composed of the Hanover, Carlisle, Lancaster, York, Hagerstown and Frederick fairs, and it insures six consecutive weeks of show and race points, with less than fifty miles transportation necessary for any transfer. The same arrangements and regulations in reference to exhibitors and concessionaires will obtain at all the above fairs, assuring uniform treatment and privileges.

THE WRONG HANOVER AGAIN

A Russian, aged about 20 years, arrived in Hanover from Jersey City on Tuesday. He could neither speak nor understand English. In passing over Centre Square, John Waltman, clerk in the Hanover postoffice, saw the man was in distress, and took him to the postoffice, where it was ascertained that his name is Steve Kitch and that he wanted to visit his brother at Hanover Luzerne Co.

Mr. Waltman took him to Union depot and purchased a ticket to Nanticoke near Wilkes-Barre, which cost him $3.89. The young man had $12.50 in his possession which was the total of his assets.

NO FREE TRIP FOR VETERANS

Pennsylvania has not yet Made an Appropriation to Bring her Veterans Next Year. Various Other Incorrect Impressions.

Adjutant General Thomas J. Stewart says:

"There seems to be a wonderful amount of misinformation floating around about the 50th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg, which will be celebrated next July. We have seen it stated in papers that Pennsylvania has provided for the free transportation of the veterans of the state to the celebration. The Act creating the commission made no such provision. The Act of 1911 making an immediate appropriation of $50,000 of a total of $250,000 does not provide one cent for transportation of veterans.

"Again, it has been published that Congress had authorized the expenditure of $150,000 to transport veterans to Gettysburg, but the clauses in the Deficiency bill do not provide for the expenditure of a single cent in transportation. That amount is provided if an equal amount is set aside by Pennsylvania, as has been agreed upon but the entire sum is for physical conditions at Gettysburg, water, sewerage, sanitation and hospital service, camp equipment, rations and supplies.

"New York State has appropriated $285,000 for transportation of all her veterans. New Jersey has made a similar provision. These states have extended transportation to every living veteran in the state whether a participant in the battle or not. Pennsylvania cannot do less than her sister states. Provision will have to be made for the transportation of 50,000 veterans if they desire to come, for there is more than that number living in Pennsylvania. This provision must be made by the next legislature.

"G. A. R. posts and veterans should see to it that their representatives in the legislature vote for necessary provision early in the session beginning in January next.

"It is up to the Commission to make a canvass of veterans by posts or otherwise before the legislature meets so as to be able to report the number desiring transportation. Pennsylvania should do as much for her veterans as other states, transportation for every one, whether participating in this battle or not.

JEWISH NEW YEAR BEGINS

The shophar or ram's horn will sound in Jewish temples and synagogues this evening when the New Year, according to the Jewish calendar, begins. This symbolic act is performed in obedience to a Scriptural precept and is presumed to recall to the minds of worshippers the solemn spiritual demands of the day.

The Jewish New Year is not only the beginning of the year, but it is also the date of a new moon, and this the seventh of the calendar. Seven throughout the mysterious East is a sacred number, to which strange powers are ascribed. The seventh new moon, according to ancient precept, marks an occasion of unusual importance.

Patented "mirror screen." The Wizard Theatre has just installed the wonderful "mirror screen." Pictures projected on this beautiful, massive mirror, stand out with wonderful clearness. Every detail is plainly seen. Instead of the usual flat appearance on the old style white walls and canvas curtains, this beautiful mirror presents the action of the characters and the scenes as though you were actually looking at living people on a real stage. It also prevents eye strain as the pictures become soft and agreeable to the eyes by the use of this glass curtain. See it tonight.

NEW PARTY IS BORN IN MAINE

Progressives Organize After Helping Republicans.

RETURNS OF THE ELECTION

Plurality For Governor Is Over 4000 and Senator and Congressman Gained by G. O. P.

Portland, Me., Sept. 11.—Maine emerged from the state election, in which the Republicans were victorious, to find herself facing another political contest, with five parties in the race for the six presidential electoral votes.

The Progressive party, whose leaders had joined with the Republicans in Monday's election, came into being after the announcement of the election of William T. Haines for governor, three out of four representatives to congress and a majority in the legislature which will choose a United States senator. Former Congressman Edwin C. Burleigh received the Republican preferential vote for senator at the recent primaries.

Revised returns for governor give: Haines, Republican, 70,880; Plaised, Democrat, 67,848. Haines' plurality, 3032.

Plaised's plurality in 1910 was $669. Complete unofficial legislative returns show that there will be twenty-three Republicans to eight Democrats in the senate and seventy-nine Republicans and seventy-two Democrats in the house, giving the Republicans 102 on a joint ballot and the Democrats eighty.

Interest centered in the action of the Progressive leaders. The Republicans and Democrats have already nominated their presidential electors. The Progressives, Prohibitionists and Socialists, not being recognized officially, will make their nomination of electors by petition.

Halbert P. Gardner, in announcing the position of the Progressives, said: "The Progressive party, as a party, does not take credit for the result of the election, although the Progressive element in the Republican party won the fight for Mr. Haines. It did this in order to carry out the agreement made with the Republican leaders and also because the Progressives had taken part in the Republican primaries and felt bound to abide by the verdict then rendered."

"The Progressive party of Maine came into existence for the first time. From now on it will seek election for Roosevelt presidential electors in Maine."

Chairman John P. S. Wilson, of the Democratic state committee, declared that the results were encouraging. He said that the split in the Republican party meant the election in November of the Democratic presidential electors.

The Republican leaders were reticent about the future. Chairman Warren C. Philbrook, of the state committee, while expressing satisfaction over the result of the election, refused to say what his plans were for the presidential campaign.

28 INJURED IN WRECK

Express Train Leaves Track at High Speed, But No One Is Killed.

Erie, Pa., Sept. 11.—While running fifty miles an hour eastbound passenger train No. 6 on the Nickel Plate was derailed by spreading rails at the Fagan road crossing, Westerville, injuring twenty-eight persons, none of them fatally.

After bowling along for sixty feet, four human-laden coaches plunged over a twenty-foot embankment. That none were killed is a miracle. A scene of horror followed the crash of the coaches down the hill. Inside the cars the people were jammed about and together in a frightful mass.

The second baggage car, smoker and one day coach were thrown over the embankment, turning turtle. The front end of the diner was buried several feet into the mud, the rear end remaining upon the track. The engine and first baggage car did not leave the rails.

NEW CARDINAL TALK AGAIN

Reported Statement From Vatican Said to Make Creation Almost Sure.

Rome, Sept. 11.—That a new American cardinal will be created at the fall consistory was made almost certain by what is published here as an authorized statement from the Vatican.

This statement said that as the recent deaths of two cardinals had left eight vacancies in the Sacred College, and as the pope's American sympathies are well known, there is ground for belief that another American cardinal may be created, though the primary purpose of the consistory is to confer red hats on the Austrian and Spanish cardinals created last year. Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, and Archbishop Quigley, of Chicago, are considered likely candidates.

AUTOIST HELD ON MURDER CHARGE

Millionaire's Hair Turns Gray Through Worry.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 11.—James M. Lloyd, millionaire, and sales manager for the Jones & Laughlin Steel company, was held for the grand jury here on a murder charge by a coroner's jury.

Lloyd, while driving in Federal street on June 30 in an automobile, ran down and killed Miss Bernice Carpenter, twenty-six years old, a school teacher.

At the inquest Lloyd was represented by an attorney, although he was present himself. Since the accident, Lloyd's friends say, he has worried continually and is unable to sleep. His hair has turned gray, although it was black before Miss Carpenter's death.

A bond of $5000 was furnished and Lloyd was not put under arrest.

CHINA GETS MILLIONS FROM ENGLISH BANK

Agreement For Loan Has Been Signed.

London, Sept. 11.—An agreement for a loan to China of $50,000,000 at 5 per cent for forty years, was signed on Aug. 30 by the Chinese minister and a representative of Lloyd's bank.

The loan is secured upon unpledged revenue, chiefly the salt duty; it is free of control and supervision which proved an obstacle to the loan by the six-nation group. The salt duty, however, is to be controlled by the British inspector general of customs in case of default.

Wendell Jackson, an American, is said to have arranged the agreement. It is contained in some quarters that the Chinese minister was without the power to sign the agreement.

WOMAN'S DEATH NOT BY DROWNING

Autopsy on Exhumed Body of Mrs. Szabo.

THE INVESTIGATION GOES ON

Physicians Declare They Found Indications Her Death Was Due to Causes Other Than Drowning.

New York, Sept. 11.—Physicians who conducted an autopsy on the body of Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo, exhumed in a Jersey City cemetery, declared that they had found indications that the woman's death was due to causes other than drowning.

A further examination, they said, would determine the exact cause of death. Dr. George W. King, assistant to the county physician, said "suspicious appearances" had been found in several of the organs, but he could not state now the exact cause of death.

"You will know very shortly whether Mrs. Szabo died of drowning," he said. "There will be many new and startling developments within the next twenty-four hours," he said.

De Graw, a deputy sheriff of Orange county, N. J., ran excitedly from the room immediately after the autopsy had been completed and took a train for New York. He would not say whether he was going to see Burton W. Gibson, who was Mrs. Szabo's attorney and is the executor of her $10,000 estate.

Gibson, for the removal of whom as executor of Mrs. Szabo's estate the Austrian consul general has petitioned, was not represented at the proceedings.

Stripped of her wedding ring, garbed only in a simple night robe, in which she was consigned in an unmarked casket to an unmarked grave in a deserted section of the New York Bay cemetery, the body of Mrs. Szabo was exhumed.

County Physician George W. King, of Hudson county, N. J., conducted the autopsy, assisted by Dr. Otto Schulz, one of the coroner's physicians of New York. Much depends on the results of this autopsy.

Mrs. Szabo met her death on July 15 while boating in Greenwood Lake with Burton W. Gibson, her attorney. Following her death Gibson produced and had probated a will purporting to have been left by Mrs. Szabo, in which she left her estate, estimated at $13,000, to her mother, Mrs. Petronella Menschik, and appointed Gibson her executor.

In an application asking the removal of Gibson as executor, Dr. Fischer, deputy consul general at the port of New York from Austria, makes the accusation that Gibson knew that Mrs. Szabo's mother was dead at the time he probated the will. Notwithstanding this he procured a woman to pose as Mrs. Menschik, it is charged, obtained from her a waiver of citation and has since drawn a large portion of the estate from savings banks, despite the fact that there are brothers and sisters of Mrs. Szabo living in Austria.

It is further charged that Gibson concealed the death of Mrs. Szabo, telling acquaintances of hers that she had gone to Chicago, after which he sold her property, took charge of her mail and had her trunks sent to his home in Rutherford, N. J.

Upon the strength of these charges District Attorney Rogers of Orange county, in which Mrs. Szabo died while in company with Gibson, was prevailed upon to start an investigation in which the district attorney of New York is participating, into the exact cause of Mrs. Szabo's death.

MARYLAND TO OUST ALL T. R. ELECTORS

State Convention Will Clear Ticket of Bull Moose.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 11.—The Republican state convention will reassemble here to name six presidential electors.

Of the eight electors chosen at the convention last May six are avowed Roosevelt supporters. Three of this number have resigned since the re-nomination of President Taft, but three others, Colonel Joseph R. Baldwin, David M. Newbold, Jr., and William Allen, have steadfastly refused to get off the ticket and will be deposited by the convention which will be controlled by the regular Republicans.

While it is expected that there will be some Roosevelt delegates in the convention, the Progressive leaders say it is their desire that the supporters of Colonel Roosevelt should not attend, as they contend that the convention is illegal. They argue that under the law vacancies among the electors can be brought about only through death or resignation, in which event the vacancies may be filled only by the state central committee. The Progressive leaders will hold a conference next Monday and adopt plans for the nomination of eight Roosevelt electors by petition.

WHEN COMPANY COMES.

When company comes we like to serve them with just the best the house can afford, and happy is the housekeeper who recognizes her limitations and knows her resources from pocket book to energy and strength.

The housewife who has loads of silver, cut glass and fine linen, delights to give elaborate feasts, and they are all right for those who can afford them; but where there is one with wealth at her disposal there are thousands who enjoy entertaining, if it must be, simply.

When our women learn to do with what they have, or can have, without a burden of debt, happy that they have friends and can enjoy them, entertaining becomes their circumstance, not aching after those who have large means at their disposal, we will have less nervous, discontented women and fewer business failures and discouraged men.

Our amusements and pleasures should be adapted to our position and circumstances. The tired business man who must struggle into a dress suit and start out at nine or ten o'clock at night for a party, sees very little enjoyment in anticipation; but if he could drop in to a simple supper or dinner, go home at a reasonable hour, he would be rested and ready for work the next day.

The truly great are they who live simple, sane and comfortable lives, entertaining at seasonable hours normal people.

When making custard pie, it is a little more elegant if a half cup of cocoanut is added just before putting into the oven, and when serving, a tablespoonful of whipped cream added, makes a really elegant dessert.

Hospitality is as old as the hills, the good book tells us, "that a dinner of herbs where love is, is better than a stalled ox, with hatred therewith."

Latest in House Building.

Spanners and screwdrivers are the only tools required in up-to-date house building. This latest development in an important craft comes, as might be expected, from the United States, says London Tit-Bits. Blocks of concrete cement are cast according to the desired pattern, with a wire spiral passage through the center. When ready for erection steel pins are passed through the center of the castings, and the whole bolted together over a wooden frame. The work of building or dismantling a house so constructed is stated to be simple in the extreme.

FLED BEFORE FLAMES

RUSSIAN PEASANTS SUFFERERS FROM PRAIRIE FIRES.

Huge Areas Devastated and Human Lives, as Well as Live Stock, Sacrificed—Whole Settlements Wiped Out.

Midsummer in Russia has been ushered in by a great epidemic of fires on the steppes.

The intense dryness of the season has spread the fires over a huge area. One of the most dreadful fires that the Russian steppes have ever seen raged a few days ago in the Province of Turgai, on the other side of the Ural mountains, and to the northeast of the Caspian. On these steppes vast seas of grass stretch to the horizon, raised only by shrubs of the wild cherry and dwarf almond on the hillsides or by clumps of wormwood when the soil is clayey. Herds of cattle and horses graze on the plains.

It was early in the morning when mighty clouds of smoke suddenly rose up from the steppe, a sure sign to the inhabitants that a fire was in progress. So appalling was the speed with which the fire rolled over the dry and yellow grass that the peasants had quickly to concert measures for saving just their own lives from destruction. Feverish activity prevailed in all the villages until the tongues of flame which came on nearer and nearer with uncanny swiftness appeared on the horizon.

Swept forward by the rushing wind, sparks from the conflagration kindled in advance another fire, which in a short time enveloped 30,000 acres of grazing ground. Swifter and swifter before the wind dashed on the wall of fiery waves. Enormous pillars of flame shot up into the air. The suction was so strong that slabs of turf and burning branches were hurled up into the air and thrown far away.

Men and cattle were hard put to it to save themselves. Their least danger was of being scorched by the fiery breath which swept on ahead of the furnace. Women and children who sank helpless to the ground were dragged along by the other villagers, for only hasty flight was now of any avail. But even this would not have saved them had not a lake lain in their path, into which they all rushed, wading in as far as they could without drowning.

Imagine, then, hundreds of persons standing in the waters up to their shoulders, while all round them masses of flame ran along the banks and sent out flickering tongues over the water in their direction, baffled in their thirst for victims.

Some of the inhabitants of the villages on the steppes directly they saw the fire advancing set to work to burn large areas, and on these areas they collected all their cattle and household goods. At last a heavy shower came and extinguished the prairie fire. Many perished in the flames or were stifled by the smoke, five in one village, three in another, and so on. Besides this there was great destruction of livestock, large and small.—Hamburger Nachrichten.

How the Picture Animals Talk. A Parisian novelty is a picture book of animals, and each animal utters its own characteristic cry. The pictures represent the most familiar domestic animals, and each animal speaks its own language. To cause it to break silence nothing is necessary but to pull a little string at the edge of the book.

In the books are to be seen a rooster, a cow, a lamb, little birds in their nest, a donkey, a cuckoo, a goat. On the last page are children who are welcoming their parents. By pulling the string at the right page the cry of any particular creature is elicited. The listener hears the donkey heehaw and the rooster crow. The crowing is well imitated. The string is pulled again and the lamb bleats, the birds twitter, the cuckoo sings, the cow moos, or the little children call out "papa" and "mamma."

These interesting results are obtained simply by the aid of small bells placed in a box hidden in the book. When the string is pulled the air enters the corresponding bellows and is thence expelled by a spring. The air makes its exit through a special tube appropriate for each cry, and at the same time the bellows meets with obstacles placed on a wire.

Experimenting With Death.

There are few men, perhaps, who have not a hundred times in the course of life, felt a curiosity to know what their sensations would be if they were compelled to lay life down. The very impossibility, in ordinary cases, of obtaining any approach to this knowledge, is an incessant spur pressing on the fancy in its endeavors to arrive at it. Thus poets and painters have ever made the estate of a man condemned to die one of their themes of comment or description. Footboys and 'prentices hang themselves every other day, conclusively—missing their arrangement for slipping the knot half way—out of a seeming instinct to try the secrets of that fate, which—less in jest than earnest—they feel an inward monition may become their own. And thousands of men, in early life, are uneasy until they have mounted a breach or fought a duel merely because they wish to know, experimentally, that their nerves are capable of carrying them through that peculiar ordeal.—From "Le Revenant."

GREAT BASE STEALER

Veteran Fans Give Bill Lange Credit for Honor.

Californian Was Especially Clever in Going From First to Second—Had Big Advantage in His Tremendous Size.

Veteran fans will tell you that Bill Lange was the greatest base stealer of all time. Bill was especially great in going from first to second. He had everything figured down to a nicety.

It's one of the A. B. C's of the game that the second baseman covers the bag if a left-field hitter is at bat and the short-stop, if the batter is a notable right-field swatter. Every man has his tendencies toward plugging the ball a certain direction.

When Lange was on first he would stand flat-footed off the sack a few feet and watch the man who was expected to cover second. As a catcher is liable to throw wide or high the expectant tagger always glances around to see whether the center fielder is going to back him up. This was the time Bill Lange started his steal. He would have the opposition off guard momentarily. The short-stop or second baseman, glancing over his shoulder, would be delayed a trifle and Bill would be coming down the line like a streak. His tremendous size and force when he slid into second made him feared, anyway, so he had every advantage in his favor.

It was his selection of psychological moments in a game that made Bill Lange such a power in the sport.

Mike Kelly of "Slide, Kelly, Slide" fame was perhaps the fastest starter on stealing bases the game has developed. He could stand stock still and then develop top speed in a couple of steps. The advantage of this is obvious. Kelly inaugurated many plays in baseball which are being used today.

When Kelly and John Clarkson, the great pitcher of his time, were sold to Boston for $10,000 apiece they set the record for the highest price ever paid for ball players up to their time.

There always has been a standing dispute whether King Kelly or Buck Ewing was the greatest catcher. It never will be decided satisfactorily.

Ewing also contributed many new ideas to the game. Tom Burns, one time manager of the Chicago Colts, says it was Ewing who first ran ato the diamond to get a thrown ball from the outfield when Kelly was sliding home, and whipped it back to second, clearing the bases of runners. Ewing had it figured out in a flash that Kelly had eight chances out of ten in scoring because of his terrific, twisting slide, and he took a chance of retiring the runner at second. This play has come down to our generation and is often used when the man coming home cannot be retired.

STORIES OF THE DIAMOND

Eppe Rixey's relatives are opposed to his playing baseball. Ban Johnson is watching the minor leagues for good umpires. Marsans is said to be that one best bet of the Reds this year. The New York Americans have released Shortstop Martin to Rochester. Everybody is pulling for Walter Johnson to beat Rube Marquard's record. Eddie Summers is done. He has quit the Providence team and gone home. Joe McGinnity pitched three double-headers in the recent trip of the New York team.

George Stovall says he would not trade Lefty Hamilton for Eddie Plank or Nap Rucker. Cleveland fans are howling because George Stovall is making good and isn't doing so well.

ITCHING HUMORS

There Is Now A Way To Escape These Skin Torments

Try this Remedy at Our Risk

People sometimes say, "Well, that new remedy of yours, Saxo Salve, may cure recent cases of eczema but I doubt if it will help me for I have had eczema a long time."

The fact is, Saxo Salve was devised as much for chronic skin troubles as for acute cases, and it is equally effective, though usually the chronic cases are more stubborn.

Numbers of cases right around here could be cited, showing that Saxo Salve is exactly the remarkable soothing and curative remedy for skin diseases that we claim.

The itching is stopped in a few moments after the first application, and improvement is seen in a few days.

All humors and disorders of the skin; whether scaly, crusted or in the very first stages, usually yield to Saxo Salve promptly. If it does not, in your case your money will be refunded. People's Drug Store, Baltimore St., Gettysburg, Pa.

The quickest way to kill germs is to breathe deep into the lungs the vaporized air of Booth's HYOMEI.

As this antiseptic air passes over the sore spots infested with Catarrh germs, it not only destroys them, but heals the inflamed membrane and stops the discharge of mucus.

Then hawking, spitting, sneezing, crusts in the nose and foul breath will disappear, and vile, disgusting Catarrh will be conquered.
